

From the Broads to the Estuary

An inaugural conference for a new professional network for psychoanalytic and psychodynamic practitioners in East Anglia

Saturday 23rd February 2019
10.30am – 4.30pm

Please join us for this important conference, in the inspiring airy setting of Norwich Cathedral's Visitor and Education Centre. Two stimulating talks will set the scene, exploring and bringing a fresh perspective to the fundamentals and common ground that inform our work as psychoanalytic and psychodynamic psychotherapists.

'What's the point of Psychotherapy?'

Hannah Curtis

Psychoanalytic Psychotherapist

Countertransference – Evidence or Obstruction?

Bob Hinshelwood

Psychoanalyst and Emeritus Professor, CPS Essex University

We will explore the role that an inclusive network for UKCP, BPC, APC and BACP psychoanalytic and psychodynamic therapists could play in building a more cohesive identity for our profession in East Anglia for the benefit of the public and succeeding generations of psychotherapists.

Most of all we want to hear your views – so please save the day and join us in Norwich.

Facilitated by Gary Fereday

Chief Executive of the British Psychoanalytic Council
